Delta Kayak in Basalt Innegra

The Delta is a high-performance touring kayak that most anyone can master quickly.

Light and responsive, this little guy slips along with very little effort. Borrowing the V-shaped design element in the forward section from its racing cousins, this little speedster has enhanced stability with plenty of maneuverability.

Great for covering distances on flat water, this kayak is ideal for leisure or fitness paddling and could even be used in mild white water. A relatively small cockpit opening will keep the splash out while delivering plenty of leg room inside to allow a high knee position for comfort.

This is an ideal boat for the aspiring fitness or racing paddler to get a taste of the performance and speed West Side Boat Shop kayaks offer in a light, short form factor. East to load, easy to store, easy to love. It is the perfect introduction to performance kayaking.

This particular boat was built in Feb, 2024 and has fore and aft bulkheads with SmartTrack rudder, grab handles and full carbon fiber cockpit coaming and seat.
